

WACOM

541 TANAKA, FUKAYA-SHI, SAITAMA, 369-1108, JAPAN
Tel: +81-48-583-5491, Fax :+81-48-583-5492
WACOM ELECTRIC CO., LTD.

Attn: Our valued Customer

April 20, 2021

Regarding Notice for Dissolution of our Company

Dear Sirs,

With regards to our products manufactured by WACOM, we appreciate your usual patronage in a variety of fields of your business application. We regrettably inform you that we have decided to discontinue all operations and dissolve our company as of the end of December 2021. We had been developing and manufacturing light sources and light source application equipment together with our business partners. In particular, the high-performance solar simulator had been delivered to various research and development institutions and had been highly evaluated. However, in the market environment that various light sources have being replaced by LEDs and LDs, in addition to that the equipment-related business of our main business is in a very difficult situation. We have made every possible effort to reduce costs, including labor costs, and improve productivity, but it has become difficult to meet strong market demands, therefore unfortunately we have decided to dissolve our company at this time.

We are planning to take the following measures for each business.

• The light source business for UV lamp:

All orders receiving will be closed on September 30, 2021. As for substitute products, it would be possible to introduce from Ushio, Inc., and the details will be informed separately.

• Optical application equipment for Solar Simulator:

New inquiry and order of the equipment is already closed. The order for the parts, accessories and after-sales services such as maintenance by Wacom for existing equipment will be suspended on June 30, 2021, and these supports will be planned to continue by ADTEC Engineering Co., Ltd. from July 1, 2021.

For any questions about this matter, please contact the following e-mail address. : soumu@wacom-ele.co.jp

Again, we apologize for the inconvenience caused due to this time determination for dissolution of our company.

We sincerely solicit your understanding for this matter. In addition, we deeply appreciate for your cooperation and patronage until now.

Very sincerely,

Yoshiyuki Yamaguchi

President

WACOM Electric Co., Ltd.